

Name _____ Date _____

Unit 1: Foundations in Social Studies

Review

Vocabulary Matching

1. D records made by people who saw or took place in an event
2. E records written by someone who was not there at the event
3. C how a person looks at a problem or event
4. B five big ideas that help people understand geography
5. A ways in which people use, adapt, or modify with the Earth

- A. Human/environment interactions
- B. Five themes of geography
- C. Point of view
- D. Primary source
- E. Secondary source

6. What are the four questions a historian ask?

1. When did it happen?

2. What happened?

3. Who was involved?

4. How and why did it happen?

France, May 20, 1945

Dearest Loa,

Still here in France, and will be for another ten days, I guess. I don't know for sure what's holding us up; ships, processing or what; but that's the way it is. I think I ought to be home before June 25th though. That'll make it about an even year since I was home last, huh? Mighty long time! Honey, I just don't know what to say. I guess I know so little about what is going on and has gone on, at home. I guess I'll just have to wait 'til I hear from you. -- I sure hope I can get you by phone when I hit the states!

And by the way, Punkin, don't pay any attention to all the stories in magazines, etc., about the returning boys being strangers and having to be re-adapted and how to treat them, etc. -- They're just the same, and they want the folks at home to be just the same too. So don't be worrying about how to treat me, or any such thing. Just pretend I'd never left -- and I'll do the rest!

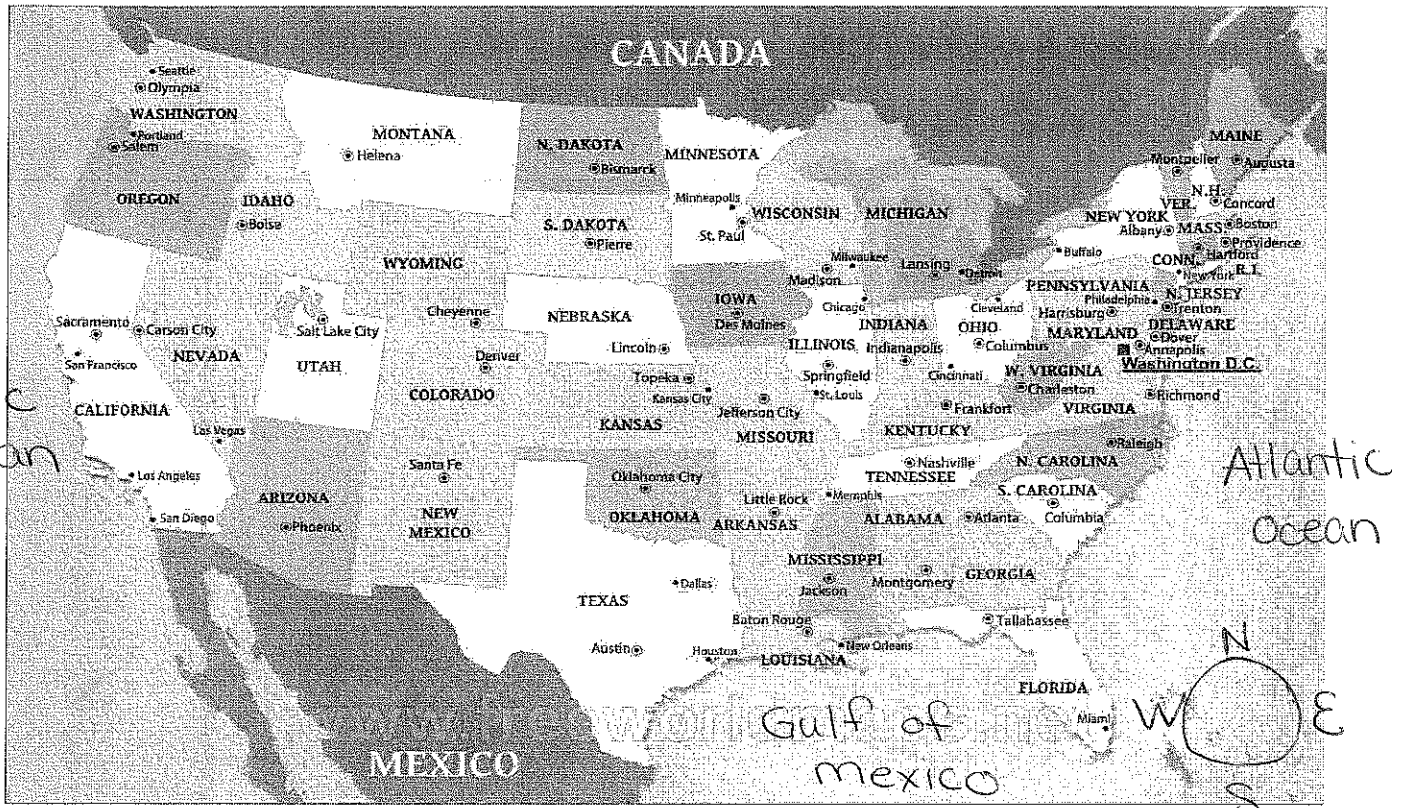

I Love You Sweets,
Paul

7. Is this an example of a primary or secondary source? Explain your answer.

This is a primary source because
Paul is giving his firsthand account in a letter.

8. What are the five questions a Geographer would ask?

1. How is it connected to other places?
2. What is it like there?
3. Where is it?
4. How do people interact with the environment?
5. How might common geographic characteristics help us understand this place?

9. Look at the map of the United States above. Provide 3 different statements about the relative location of the United States.

- a. The US is North of Mexico.
- b. The US is South of Canada.
- c. The US is West of the Atlantic Ocean.